Pray for Hope

Mysterious God, star-maker,

May your star-light shine down on us
as we begin this journey through Advent.

May your star-light flood this dark winter world with bright beaming light that fills every dark corner.

May your star-light guide us back to you
as we wait patiently with Mary and Joseph to welcome you once more into our world.

May your star-light give us strength:
strength to stand firm in our faith.

May your star-light revive our tired bodies and minds and give us energy
for the weeks ahead.

May your star-light shine in us
and through us so that everyone
may know of your amazing light,
the light that shines in the darkness,
the light that can never be put out.
Star-maker, help us to shine for us.

Amen

Sunday, (Dec 1): Heavenly Father, thank you for the assurance that Jesus will return for us one day, and until then, may we be prepared for his coming and live lives that honor and glorify You. Pray that our eyes today that we might see signs of your ongoing presence in our lives in this world and to awaken us to the reality of life, lest we become excessively sidetracked by what does not truly bring life. Pray that You will constantly give us words and opportunities to share with others the trust and hope that You instill in us.

Monday, (Dec 2): Church: We have entered the month of December and we thank God for His goodness and faithfulness in our lives, in the church, and throughout the nation. As we approach the end of the year, may we take time each day to acknowledge the Lord's presence and work in our lives, to understand His heart, and to hear Him. May the season of Advent inspire us to share the good news of our Lord Jesus to people around us, to share God's love and peace, as well as the joy and hope we have in our Lord Jesus Christ.

Tuesday, (Dec 3): Pray for churches to be able to demonstrate and share Christ's love as they prepare for Christmas in an outward-looking strategy to reach out to individuals who have not yet encountered Jesus as Lord and Savior. Pray for churches as they plan for 2025 with a missional perspective, not to overlook being outwardly-focused, but to consider the vibrant ministries beyond their four walls, touching and transforming lives for Christ. Pray for churches to become relevant in the digital world by taking advantage of the opportunity to better understand and navigate the digital landscape, as well as to encourage their digitally active church members in extending their ministry reach for Christ.

Wednesday, (Dec 4): Pray for the Nation: Pray for the present parliamentary sitting and the budget presented, which has been thoroughly studied and debated before being passed to ensure that every law passed would benefit the rakyat. Pray for the North-East Monsoon season as a means of effective preparation for everyone involved in the possibility for floods in low-lying areas and near rivers, which according to Jabatan Meteorologi Malaysia, have begun and will last until March 2025. Pray for various bodies and agencies to collaborate closely in order to fight and stop the growing number of online scams and frauds that have grown so widespread in our country and are causing billions of ringgit in losses every year.

Thursday, (Dec 5): TRAC: Haknook Jenang OA Hostel - We give thanks to God for the opportunity to do ministry for the OA Community through the Hostel. Pray that God will enable us to persevere in this ministry. Pray that God will continue to provide for this work. Pray for each of the students who are with us in the hostel - that their lives may be truly blessed. Pray also for the upcoming Christmas celebration on the 21st of December. Pray for a meaningful time of connecting with the parents and family of our students.

Friday, (Dec 6): Pray for God's mercy and protection as we face frequent heavy rains across the country this season. Pray for everyone's safety, especially in the low-lying areas. May God guide the authorities in their efforts to provide weather warnings, and may we be vigilant in following instructions to make the necessary preparations for travel, outdoor activities as well as for staying at home.

Saturday, (Dec 7): Pray for the World: We thank God that He came in the form of human to reveal Himself to us and live among us. We are humbled that our Lord Jesus, King of kings, came in such a lowly manner. We pray for leaders to have a God-fearing heart and humility, so that they can serve the nation and people with humility and integrity. Pray for peace in the war-torn areas, as well as God's protection and comfort for the people. Pray for the areas that are experiencing natural calamities like floods this season. Pray for God's mercy and protection for everyone.
